

BOB WHITE PAYS PENALTY

SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY FOR NOT LESS THAN A YEAR

Quantity of Current Business Disposed of at the May Argument Court.

Robert White, 22 years of age, pleaded guilty to indictment for the larceny of tools of the value of $25 from C. S. Reaser, the tools having been sold by White, being also indicted for the larceny of a gold watch and chain, the property of Mrs. Haner, with whom he boarded, on the 25th of January last, was sentenced on Monday to the Penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than two years. Before sentencing he asked whether he could make a statement and said that he gave himself up to the police because of the impression that he could be held for going off with the automobile. He did not realize that the machine was in his name and he could not be held criminally for going off with it. When the Court wanted to know why he did what he did his reply was that he had nothing to say in defense. He stated that he had never been in prison before. In passing sentence Judge Swope referred to the seriousness of the charge, how he had outraged the sentiment of this community, that he had received nothing but kindness, had been given a chance, had taken a part in a revival, ingratiating himself into the confidence of a number of people of the community and that the Court believed in doing this he had been sincere, that he had played with the community until the opportunity came to do the town and as a warning and punishment the imprisonment was imposed. Bob White was taken to the penitentiary on Wednesday morning.

Other current business transacted was as follows:

Sales of real estate were reported and confirmed nisi as follows: The real estate of Jacob G. Slonaker and wife in Gettysburg, sold at public sale by John D. Keith, Esq., assignee, to Chas. F. Bupp of Gettysburg, for $4200.

The property of the Trinity United Evangelical Church of East Berlin, being forty-four perches with church building, sold at private sale by David F. Smith, Esq., Amos Smith and L. A. Miller, trustees and the only surviving members, to Washington Camp No. 159 P. O. S. of A., for seven hundred dollars.

Widows' lists of $300 exempt property were approved nisi as follows: Mary M. Riffe, widow of George W. Riffe of Littlestown, and the widow of Wm. F. Sebright of Reading township.

Discharges were ordered as follows: Bruce C. Knoose, guardian of Ruth Knoose, minor child of Agnes Knoose, the guardian's account being confirmed. James H. McDaniel, administrator of estate of Daniel McDaniel of Franklin township. Sallie E. Steinberger, administratrix of estate of Maggie Shepherd, the share of the minor children of Mary Kerr, deceased, $34.31 being paid into court. John Glass, executor of will of Annie Glass of Oxford township.

Amos M. Dutera, committee of Solomon Bupp, insane, was authorized to pay to Lydia Ann Bupp, the wife, the sum of thirty dollars yearly, toward her support.

The Guardian Trust Co. of York was appointed guardian of David G. Chas. R. and Chester F. Sebright, three minor children of Wm. F. Sebright.

Accounts as advertised were confirmed in the Common Pleas as follows:

Wm. Hersh, Esq., assignee of estate of Jere D. Shoemaker and wife. Wm. Hersh and Newton A. Tawney, assignees of estate of Jacob E. Rummel.

Jacob A. Appler, Esq., assignee of estate of Sarah A. and Wm. J. Athoff.

Chas. H. Deardorff committee of Mrs. Sarah Hewitt.

Auditors were appointed as follows: Raymond F. Topper, Esq., to dispose of exceptions to the account of George Hartman, administrator d. b. n. c. t. a. of Philip Hartman and to report distribution.

C. W. Stoner, Esq., to report distribution of balance on the account of Mary E. Crist, executrix of the will of James B. Crist of Reading township.

Hon. D. P. McPherson was appointed commissioner in the divorce case of Laura Virginia Wolf vs. C. Milton Wolf, the court having made an order for the payment of $175 counsel fee and costs.

L. D. Plank was appointed an auditor of Cumberland township to fill the vacancy occasioned by the failure to elect an auditor.

Joseph Samman, 22 years of age, held on the charge of carrying a revolver was ordered to be delivered to the authorities of York county on the charge of larceny committed there.

Girl Nurse at Gettysburg.

Decoration Day sees the fame of the veterans wreathed with garlands, but it will also see the fame of a gentle heroine now living in Gettysburg honored as is her due. Mrs. Salome S. Myers was a girl when the first guns boomed across the field of Gettysburg, when Pickett and his men went reeling back bearing Confederate hopes to defeat, she was a woman, conquering her youthful fears she went into the blood-drenched war hospital and there for three days fight nursed the maimed and the dying with a woman's calmness and fortitude. But in the story of "The Girl Nurse at Gettysburg" there is another more tender and touching vein than even heroism: it is the love which came to the girl as a result of her sacrifices. A war story, a bravery story and a love story. It is a great romance, because it is all as it happened.

Those readers of the Sunday "North American" in this section who have been following that paper's remarkable series of Romances from Pennsylvania History know, without prompting, the interest which these short stories have contained. On May 24 "The Girl Nurse at Gettysburg" will be published. Aside from the entertainment derived from the story there will be the local touches and intimate coloring which add so much to a reader's pleasure.

Memorial Day Program.

Dr. T. C. Billheimer, Hon. Theodore McAllister and N. L. Wierman are the Memorial Committee of Post 9, G. A. R. having charge of the arrangements and program for Memorial Exercises on May 30th.

A Memorial Service will be held in the Post Room on Sunday afternoon, May 24th, commencing at 2 p. m. The sermon will be by Dr. A. E. Wagner, and other services will be observed.

The order for Memorial Day, May 30th, will be the usual. The pupils of the schools, in the charge of their teachers, will assemble on Baltimore street at 1:45 o'clock p. m., and proceed to the National Cemetery in advance of the parade.

The parade will form in Centre Square, under command of Comrade C. O. Myers, assisted by Dr. Henry Stewart, and march promptly to the National Cemetery, where the ceremonies attending the strewing of the flowers will be held. School children, surviving veterans and others who wish can participate in this beautiful ceremony.

The exercises at the Rostrum will be as follows:

Music by the Band.
Prayer by Rev. A. E. Wagner, D.D.
Reading of Lincoln's Address by John D. Keith, Esq.
Oration by United States Senator Moses E. Clapp.

Benediction by Dr. T. C. Billheimer, who will be Master of Ceremonies at the Rostrum.

Mr. Keith has arranged with a number of owners of automobiles in town to have them placed at the disposal of the committee for the purpose of hauling all of the veterans who desire to go to the cemetery.

The annual observance of Memorial Day, with the strewing of flowers in the Catholic Cemetery and services in the church, will be held on Sunday evening, May 31st. At this service also will be celebrated the May Procession and the crowning of the statue of the Blessed Virgin.

Barn Burns Down.

An alarm of fire on last Monday night at about 11:30 called out the greater part of the fire fighting apparatus of the town and it was hurried several squares northward until the discovery was made that the fire was between two and three miles from town on the Bailey farm now owned by Unger J. Snyder.

The barn catching fire in some unknown way was destroyed with the chicken house, wagon shed, a mule, five horses and five cattle. It was with difficulty that neighbors were able to save the house from destruction. There was considerable loss, covering the value

SEMINARY COMMENCEMENT

PEACE MEMORIAL PORTICO DEDICATED.

The First Memorial on the Battlefield to the Great Peace Reunion of 1913.

The Eighty-eighth year of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg was closed with appropriate exercises covering Wednesday and Thursday, and the occasion was made an historical one by the dedication of the Peace Memorial Portico, the first memorial to be created and dedicated to the great peace reunion of last year.

There are seven graduates in the Senior class and the program of exercises was opened on Wednesday morning by the reading of the theses of the graduating class in the Seminary Chapel, the following being the members of the class and subject of theses read:

Earl J. Bowman, Millersburg, "Attitude of the Church Towards Socialism."

J. A. Brosius, Sunbury, Pa., "Christian Science in Its Relation to the Scriptures."

George B. Ely, Millersburg, Pa., "The Bible in the Public Schools."

Walter A. Fieg, Kreuznach, Germany, "Luther's Theory of the Atonement."

Miles H. Krumbine, Shaffersburg, Pa., "The Psychology of Faith."

Clay E. Rice, Myersville, Md., "Child Nurture in the Church."

Newton D. Swank, Johnstown, Pa., "Dogma and Life."

NEW PORTICO AT SEMINARY.

Returns to W. M. R. R.

James E. Hare, who for a number of years was Excursion and Advertising Agent of the Western Maryland Railway, has resumed his old position with the company and will this summer devote much of his time and attention to the boosting of Pen Mar and the Sunday excursions to Gettysburg and other points on the line. Mr. Hare is well and favorably known along the Western Maryland and has a host of friends who will welcome him back to his former position again. Being an engaging in railroad advertising he was promoter of publicity

On Wednesday evening Rev. Wm. H. Hetrick, A.M., of the class of 1901 made the annual address to the Alumni Association of the institution and after the address, the delightful function of the Alumni Reunion and Church was enjoyed in Seminary Rectory.

Routine business occupied the Board of Trustees Thursday morning.

The Memorial Portico was dedicated Thursday afternoon with an impressive program. Dr. Billheimer offered the invocation. Dr. Singmaster as Master of Ceremonies spoke of the hope of the erection of a great peace memorial at Gettysburg and that the Seminary anticipated with the portico, the only memorial of the great peace jubilee. Dr. H. E. Jacobs of Mt. Airy, being introduced, made the address, recalling that commanders watched operations of war from the windows and cupola of the building equipped and sending forth soldiers of the cross and that no place could be found more appropriate for a peace memorial than the place sending forth messengers of peace.

Mrs. Harold Lewars read a touching story of her own of the 50th Anniversary at Gettysburg, entitled "The Man Who Shot Given."

Dr. E. D. Weigle made the dedicatory prayer and the exercises closed with the singing of Luther's Battle Hymn, accompanied by the College Band. Neither Gov. Tener nor the representative he named J. Horace McFarland, were able to be present.

Seminary Commencement closed on Thursday evening with the exercises in College Church, as announced last week. Dr. Coover delivered a scholarly address on "The Attitude of the Christian Ministry Toward the Life of To-day," and Dr. Singmaster delivered the diplomas to the graduating class.

The difficulties between Burgess John H. Raymond and Chief of Police Wallace W. Emmons will be heard by the Town Council at a special meeting next Tuesday evening. The whole matter is going to be thoroughly ventilated according to the reports from different sources. It is said that not only will the positions of each disputant be inquired into but what is best for the public welfare of the town will be considered.

Conditions surrounding the Burgess and Chief of Police have not been flowery beds of ease and the culmination came last week when the Burgess sent a letter to the Chief suspending the officer. At a meeting of the Town Council Wednesday evening the procedure of the hearing was determined upon. The Burgess was directed to give at once to the Chief in writing the specified charges he has against him. The Chief will have his reply to the charges ready for presentation on next Tuesday evening. Both officials may be represented by counsel and present evidence at the hearing. At the conclusion of the hearing the Council will render their verdict.

At public sale on Saturday afternoon J. D. Keith, assignee of Jacob G. Slonaker, sold the store property on York street occupied by Herman Bream, to Charles Bupp for $16,900. The purchaser was accompanied here by A. R. Warner and M. E. Sollenberger. Statement was made that a number of Waynesboro men were associated in the purchase. On their way home they were intercepted at Fairfield by a telephone message, asking them to return to Gettysburg as a prospective purchaser wanted to buy the property.

Next day Mr. Wiener returned to Gettysburg as he declared to take some Gettysburg money back with him and sold the corner to John Kimple at an advance of $600. The same day Mr. Kimple sold the corner property, retaining the three story brick, to J. H. Kadel, the proprietor of the Candy Kitchen on Chambersburg street. The purpose of purchasers have not been fully determined, though it is said there will be no change in the tenants for the present.

At public sale on Saturday afternoon J. D. Keith, assignee of Jacob G. Slonaker, sold the store property on York street occupied by Herman Bream, to Charles Bupp for $16,900.

Pen Grove Camp Meeting Date.

The Penn Grove Assembly dates fixed for the United Brethren Camp meeting which is held at Penn Grove are as follows, beginning on Friday, July 31st and close Sunday, August 9th, 1914. These camp meetings are held under the auspices of the United Evangelical Church and always attract large crowds. The program has not yet been announced, but the officers have given the assurance that all the services will be in charge of the most competent workers who can be secured. The Rev. J. R. Hutchinson, who was formerly a resident of Gettysburg, is president of the association.

Roller Passes Over Child.

A maddly spot in a corn field saved the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hetrick of near York Springs from serious injury it not death on Tuesday. The child was riding on the roller with her father when she fell forward off the machine which passed over her before the father could check his team. The little girl was ricked up and carried to the house and Dr. E. W. Cashman summoned. He found her but slightly injured.

NEW DIRECTORY OF ADAMS COUNTY

Our representatives wear this badge.

The publishers of the old reliable FARM JOURNAL of Philadelphia, are preparing to publish the Illustrated DIRECTORY OF ADAMS COUNTY, giving the name, post-office, rural route, and telephone connection of every farmer, business man, and householder in the county, all arranged alphabetically, and a classified BUSINESS DIRECTORY, including all business houses in the county, arranged under the proper headings.

With the Directory is given a complete ROAD MAP of the county, with every road NUMBERED to show the exact location of each farm, as given in the Directory.

This Directory will contain many interesting PICTURES of well-known farmers and business men of the county, fine farms, thoroughbred stock, churches and public institutions, schools and pupils, etc.

The names and necessary information are being secured by PERSONAL CANVASS of all houses and business places, and of the 3752 farms in the county. This Directory and Road Map are so useful and interesting that from our experience in other counties we can guarantee that the Directory will go into at least TWO THOUSAND HOMES OF ADAMS COUNTY, where it will be constantly used by farmers and business men for the next five years.

The Farm Journal Directories are an immense improvement over directories, containing what most publications do not give. Beside all the usual information, they give the names, addresses, telephone connection, and other important information about FARMERS, secured by PERSONAL CANVASS from each farmer himself. This canvass of country districts is so costly that most directory publishers cannot afford to make it, and ordinary lists of farmers published are in nearly all cases merely copied from official lists.

The classified BUSINESS DIRECTORY includes every business house in the county, whether in city or country. In other directories the names of houses in cities and large towns only are given.

These features with the ROAD Map, makes the Farm Journal Directory an indispensable hand-book for every live farmer and business man in the county.

If you are not sure that correct information about your farm or business has been given to one of our canvassers, please send it direct to our main office.

THE CHRIST OF THE ANDES

The Statue Dedicated to the Whole World as a Lesson of Peace.

The peace movement is simply an attempt to persuade nations to settle their disputes as all respectable men settle theirs: by peaceable methods instead of by war and force.

Several nations have already agreed to do this. Norway and Sweden have a treaty wherein they agreed to arbitrate their disputes before The Hague. But the most striking instance of all is the treaty signed several years ago by Argentina and Chili. It is striking because it was signed just when they were on the verge of war and because of the celebration of its signing.

The two nations were ready to go to war over a boundary line. Millions of dollars were being spent in preparation. Feeling was running high just then the British Ministers to Argentina and Chili, supported by the bishops of the two countries, said to the two governments: "How much better it would be instead of going into a long and cruel war over this question and wasting all your money and thousands of lives, if you would ask an impartial group of men from other nations to examine into the case and decide it. War will not determine who is right—only who is strongest."

The two nations were persuaded, the case was arbitrated by a board of jurists appointed by King Edward of England, and the decision was perfectly satisfactory to both nations. The two nations, seeing how much better the way of law was than the way of war, immediately concluded a treaty in which they agreed to submit all controversies arising between them to arbitration.

In celebration of the happy outcome of the arbitration and of the signing of the new treaty, one of the most remarkable statues ever made was placed in one of the most unique places—namely, high up in the Andes, on the road from one country to another.

The statue was carried by rail in huge crates from Buenos Ayres to Mendoza, then on gun carriages up the mountains, the soldiers and sailors themselves taking the ropes in critical places, where there was danger of the mules stumbling. Hundreds of persons had come up the night before and encamped on the ground to be present at the ceremony. The Argentines ranged themselves on the soil of Chili, the Chilians on Argentine side. There was music and the booming of guns, whose echoes sounded through mountains. The moment of unveiling, after the parts had been placed in position, was one of solemn silence. The statue was then dedicated to the whole world as a practical lesson of peace and good-will. The ceremonies of the day, March 13, 1904, were closed, as the sun went down, with a prayer that love and kindness might penetrate the hearts of men everywhere.

The base of the statue is in granite. On this is a granite sphere, weighing some fourteen tons, on which the outlines of the world are sketched, resting upon a granite column twenty-two feet high. The figure of the Christ above, in bronze, is twenty-six feet high. The cross supported in His left hand is five feet higher. The right hand is stretched out in blessing. On the granite base are two bronze tablets, one of them given by the Workmen's Union of Buenos Ayres, the other by the workingwomen. One of them gives the record of the creation and erection of the statue; on the other are inscribed the words: "Sooner shall these mountains crumble into dust than Argentines and Chilians break the peace to which they have pledged themselves at the feet of Christ the Redeemer." In this way the spirit of peace and good-will rests among the mountains.

Money for State Road Repairs.

Auditor General Powell last week asked Governor Tener for State money to employ counsel to prevent the payment of any part of the one million dollars collected from automobile owners to the repair of state roads. Governor Tener refused the request of the Auditor General, saying among other things that the State highways were in a dangerous condition for want of repairs this money would pay for. The Governor's letter is as follows: "And money for road repairs may be at hand."

Hon. A. W. Powell, Auditor General, Harrisburg, Pa.

"Sir—Your letter of the 12th instant, together with a copy of a communication from the Attorney General to you of the same date, were received in due course, since which time I have carefully reviewed the action taken by the Highway Department, the Attorney General and yourself, incident to the case in question, and absolutely approve of every step taken by the Attorney General as he has officially represented the Commonwealth, the Executive and the Highway Department. Nor can I understand how there can be any doubt as to the meaning of the Legislature's mandate, in the act of 1913, that the moneys derived from motor registration and license fees shall be specifically appropriated for the construction, maintenance and repair of the State highways, as the Attorney General contends. Assuredly, I had no doubt on the subject when I approved the bill.

"I am advised that you believe that there is an important constitutional question involved in the appropriation made of the automobile license money to the Highway Department by this act of 1913, but up to this time no act of yours has contributed to having such question fairly raised and determined.

"Three separate petitions in mandamus have been presented at the relation of the Attorney General in order to have this question speedily determined, and in each instance and at every turn you have interposed a technical objection to prevent the constitutional question from being submitted to the court, even to the extent of refusing to file an answer raising the question.

"I am further advised that if you had not interposed such technical and dilatory tactics the question would have long since been determined, and more than likely the money would have been made available, and today the roads of the Commonwealth placed in good condition by the Highway Department for the use and comfort of the public.

"I therefore cannot consent to a Deputy Attorney General opposing the official action of the Attorney General himself, nor can I consent to any portion of the money appropriated to the Attorney General for the purpose of employing counsel to aid and assist the Commonwealth, being paid to your private counsel in an effort to prevent the will and intent of the Legislature being carried out, and to hinder and impede the work of the Highway Department in the repair and maintenance of the State's highways, many of which, you of course know, are today in a dangerous condition.

"Very truly,
"John K. Tener."

Traction Engine Rule Suspended.

By reason of misunderstanding and misinterpretation of the laws and regulations relating to traction engines, there has been engendered a feeling of discontent and dissatisfaction among some owners of such machines. This has caused much concern and they have been unduly exercised by an exaggerated idea of the stringency of these laws and regulations, according to a statement issued by the State Highway department.

To correct this condition, E. M. Bigelow, State Highway Commissioner, after having given careful consideration to information and facts furnished him regarding the use of traction engines in agricultural work and with a desire to aid and assist and not to interfere with or hinder such work, deems it advisable to suspend, for the time being, rule three governing the operation of these machines so that those owning traction engines of over 100 inches in width, used for agricultural purposes, may have them registered.

Traction engines are of various makes, some of which are of such size and weight and so equipped that they are capable, in the hands of a careless and reckless operator, of doing great damage to all kinds of roads, culverts and bridges and it is to prevent this possible damage that the laws were enacted and the rules promulgated.

Threshers, balers or water tanks are not considered trailers and never have been. No registration fee is required to be paid for them.

The ordinary wear and tear of a traction engine used for agricultural purposes on a public road is not and cannot be considered as damaging a highway in such a way as to make the owner of the engine liable for the damages.

In order that no one may be put to a hardship, owners of traction engines, equipped with cleats other than those prescribed by law, will be permitted now to operate such engines during this year, with a view to having the next legislature modify the law. In fact, it is the opinion of Commissioner Bigelow that the law should be so amended as to make a distinction between the farmers' traction engines and the big, heavy tractor or used for hauling freight and heavy loads.

No one is required to swear or to make affidavit to anything except to the facts set forth in the application but all are required to agree to abide by the rules and regulations as established by the State Highway Commissioner.

The Commissioner says that he will welcome any information on the subject and will be pleased to confer with any and all persons who may feel they are unfairly restricted and will be glad to consider any suggestions looking to any change in the regulations, whenever such change can be made without at the same time authorizing the unrestricted use of vehicles capable of destroying improved roads and bridges.

HOW TO GET STRENGTH

after any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack is an ordinary cold or severe illness, the weakened forces cannot repulse disease germs, and this is why a relapse is so often fatal or why chronic weakness often follows sickness.

Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proven the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

"Do It Now"

BY WING DINGER

How doth the little buzzing fly
Spread danger every minute?
By walking 'round the food we eat
And putting his feet in it.

It makes no difference where he's been
Before he strikes the table,
He'll stick his feet in every dish
Of food that he is able.

And once he moves into the house
He doesn't act the pig
By trying to eat all himself.
But rears a family pig.

And where we have one buzz today
It won't be long until
We'll have a thousand buzzes, which
Our peace of mind will kill.

If dire dangers you'd avoid,
And save yourself a lot
Of sickness, buy a swatter now
And swat and swat and swat.

One Half Postmasters Changed.
Postmaster General Burleson points with pride to the fact that since he became head of the postal establishment 14 months ago he had appointed 23,217 postmasters, 5,171 of whom were of the Presidential grade and 18,146 of the fourth class. There were at the beginning of the present year in the United States and its possessions 8,180 Presidential postoffice and 48,980 fourth class offices, a grand total of 57,540. In a recent statement announcing the appointments Mr. Burleson said:

"Early in the new administration announcement was made that all Presidential postmasters appointed by the preceding administration would be permitted to serve out their terms and that no removals, except for improper conduct or incapacity, were made. A concurrent announcement declared that the department would require every postmaster to give to the conduct of his office his individual attention for eight hours daily. This requirement has been rigidly enforced.

"Fourth class postmasterships are being filled by competitive examinations conducted by the Civil Service Commission. In each case the names of the three highest eligibles are certified to the Postmaster General and in no case is the second eligible chosen unless the appointment of one of the higher standing eligibles is shown to be inadvisable from the standpoint of the greatest efficiency in the postal service. The postoffice system is naturally a business institution and for that reason the best system by which to secure and maintain the highest standard of efficiency is sought.

"As shown by the above figures, the Postmaster General has, within a period of fourteen months, performed the remarkable task of conducting the selection and appointment of postmasters at 60 per cent. of all Presidential offices and 87 per cent. of all fourth class offices. In accomplishing this it has been necessary for the Postmaster General and his first assistant, Mr. Koper, to confer personally with hundreds of people in regard to Presidential appointments, and the result attained in adjusting differences and harmonizing the factions in order to secure appointments in the interests of the efficiency of the service is notable."

The Eyes.

Sight is generally considered the most precious of the five senses, yet few people make an effort to take any special care of their eyes.

In order to keep the eyes healthy and clear it is necessary to keep them free from possible infection and to avoid straining them by over-work. It is an almost universal habit to wipe the eyes with a pocket handkerchief. As a rule this is not absolutely clean. As a result of its numerous uses it contains germs which if introduced into the eye are likely to result in a more or less serious infection. When suffering from a cold one should be particularly careful.

Rubbing the eyes with the unwashed hands or the use of a towel which others have used may also result in disease of the eyes. When the eyes feel hot and dry the outside of the lids should be bathed with cold water. Avoid the use of eye washes unless prescribed and administered under the direction of a physician.

To avoid straining the eyes when reading people of normal vision should hold the book fifteen or eighteen inches from the face and on a direct line with the eyes. Never hold a book low. The strain on the eyes is much greater when the book is held in the lap. Those who make a practice of reading when lying down should be careful to hold their book at the proper angle.

Always read by a good light, avoid a glare or any reflection from the printed page. If the light is poor you will hold the book too close to the eyes. Books printed in fine type should be avoided as they cause an unnecessary strain on the vision.

Defects of sight are often responsible for headaches and extreme nervousness. The people who wear glasses should have an occasional examination by an oculist, to insure themselves against changes in the vision.

MONKEYS EASY PREY

JUNGLE LEOPARDS HAVE NO TROUBLE GETTING A DINNER.

Were Clicking of Animal's Teeth Frighten Simians Until in Their Excitement They Fall From the Trees.

How the leopards of the low country jungle of Ceylon capture monkeys is told by L. S. Woolf in a letter to the London Times.

"Native Singhaese, who knew the jungle well," he writes, "always assured me that no form of food, except perhaps the dog, is so acceptable to the leopard as the large gray Wanderer monkey. I have several times found the remains of monkeys that had obviously furnished the leopard's meal in the caves which serve the leopards for a lair—and the inside of a dead leopard has shown further proof.

"The Singhaese had often told me that leopards do not attempt to climb trees in search of their prey.

"Whenever monkeys see a leopard slinking under the trees they become excited and all chatter. As soon as the leopard hears this he lies down under a bush and begins to click his teeth.

"This noise seems to fill the monkey with terror and excitement. They huddle together in the tree top above the leopard's head, jumping up and down on the branches, shrieking and chattering. Below the leopard waits motionless, clicking its teeth, until suddenly one of the monkeys misses its footing and comes to the ground with a thud—and then the leopard is on it in a bound.

"I had always received this information with some doubt until I one day saw, at any rate, the first acts of the tragedy. I was traveling in thick jungle and my bullock carts having gone on in the early afternoon, I was following later in the evening down the same sandy track. I noticed that a large leopard had been following behind the bullocks and that he had suddenly turned aside down a small game track.

"At the same moment I became aware of a tremendous chattering of monkeys in the distance. I had a Singhaese with me and we crept through the thick jungle toward the noise.

"After crawling about 150 yards I saw about fifteen to twenty monkeys jumping up and down excitedly on the top of a small tree. They seemed to be looking down at something on the other side of a large bush which was in front of me and when they saw us they kept on turning their heads first at us and then to something else, leaping up and down and shrieking perpetually and—as it appeared to me—gesticulating and beckoning to us with their long, thin gray arms.

"The same thought came to the Singhaese, for he whispered to me: 'They are beckoning you to shoot.' I lay still for a moment thinking which side of the bush it was best to crawl around, and then I distinctly heard the click, click, click of the leopard's teeth behind it. I chose the wrong side, for as I came around all I saw was the leopard disappear in a great curving bound into the thick jungle beyond."

The Creative Impulse.

The creative impulse does not itself know the next step it will take, or the next form that will arise, any more than the creative artist determines beforehand all the thoughts and forms his inventive genius will bring forth. writes John Burroughs in the Atlantic. He has the impulse or the inspiration to do a certain thing, to let himself go in a certain direction, but just the precise form his creation will take is unknown to him as to you and me. Some stubbornness or obduracy in his material, or some accident of time or place, may make it quite different from what he had hoped or vaguely planned. He does not know what thought or incident or character he is looking for till he has found it. till he has risen above his mental horizon. So far as he is inspired, so far as he is spontaneous, just so far is the world with which he deals plastic and fluid and indeterminate and ready to take any form his medium of expression—words, colors, tones—affords him. He may surprise himself, excel himself; he has surrendered himself to a power beyond the control of his will or knowledge.

Where "Stogie" Came From.

"Ever know how the word 'stogies' came into use?" asked Robert Simpson, a newspaper man of Pittsburgh, to a little party of his colleagues at the New Willard. No one in the group of writers did, whereupon Mr. Simpson proceeded: "I presume there are more stogies smoked in the middle west than any other form of tobacco. In fact, stogies are becoming popular the world over, and there are many who like them better than the best cigar. A long time ago I was in a Pennsylvania lumber district, and the timber was transported to market by means of teams. The teamsters in most instances had a long haul, and ordinarily would take a whole day to reach their destination, which was Conestoga. Instead of taking along a pipe, the teamsters would lay in a supply of Pennsylvania tobacco, and as they drove along, with one hand would roll it into shape for smoking. These rolls came to be known as Conestogas, and as time went on the word was contracted to 'stogies'."

LOOKING ON BRIGHTEST SIDE

It Would Seem From This That the World is Undergoing Something of an Improvement.

London fogs are reported to be growing less unpleasant, and a contemporary refers to a "marked improvement in their quality." It is this euphonious way of talking of the nuisances of life becomes general we may shortly expect the following: Talking with a one-legged sailor at the docks yesterday, we learned that of late years there has been a marked improvement in the quality of the sharkbites supplied in the Indian ocean. Not only are the creatures quicker off the mark, but a great deal more snap has of late been introduced into the performance from start to finish.

It is pleasant to be able to report a marked improvement in the quality of the squalls of our neighbor's baby. The pauses during which one feared that the child would choke are now of less frequent occurrence, and the loudest shrieks are timed to coincide less exactly with our struggles with particularly tricky sentences. Greater accomplishment, too, is being shown in the tremolo passages. Our wife also reports a marked improvement in the quality of the hawkers in our neighborhood. The clothes prop which one of them recently thrust in the doorway to prevent the closing of the door proved to be easily breakable when the door was slammed, and the portion left inside burned quite easily and saved at least one shovelful of coal.

London pedestrians are loud in praise of the marked improvement in the quality of the mud supplied by our motor buses. It is now comparatively rare to meet a man who spends more than two hours daily in brushing his clothes, and many of the best people have been able to reduce the wages of their valets in consequence. Few things have pleased us so much as the recent marked improvement in the quality of the colds and influenza in the metropolis. In fact, since the insurance act, more than one man has laid up with them of his own accord, and found the time of his incapacitation pass quite pleasantly.

This general amelioration in the conditions of life was first observed in the summer, when a marked improvement was noticed in the insects supplied at all the leading picnics. Tea a la midge proved itself for the first time a far from unpleasant beverage, and even the wasps in the jam seldom got as far as the esophagus—a kindly abstention that has won them the respect of all true nature lovers.—London Opinion.

Unexpected Gift.

He was a shy young man, but in his heart there raged a consuming passion for the fair Florence. On his way home from the city he managed to screw his courage up sufficiently to enter a jeweler's shop and purchase a small gift for the lady of his heart.

This, he hoped, would pave the way to the popping of the great question.

That night he called at her house and found her alone. Producing a small, square box from his pocket, he said nervously:

"I have ventured to bring you a small present, Miss Finn, but I am afraid that perhaps it will not fit your finger. Will you try it on?"

"Oh, dear," said the girl, blushing most becomingly. "this is quite unexpected! Why, I never dreamed that you really cared enough—"

Poor fool! Instead of grasping the opportunity in both hands, he opened the box and produced a thimble! Then the thermometer dropped about ten degrees.

New Post-Glacial Lake.

A new post-glacial lake has been discovered at the mouth of the River Tyne, in England. The lake stands about 100 feet above sea level and covers a square mile. Its existence was discovered apparently as the result of excavations during quay building. The series of deposits begin about 85 feet above sea level, and are 25 feet thick in places. A peculiar series of "concretions and stalactite infiltrations" were found in the sands and clays, and many specimens of vegetable remain in situ 20 feet below the surface. Post-glacial lakes, or their remains are more or less abundant all over the area originally covered by the great ice sheet of the glacial epoch, so that the mere discovery of the old beaches of another is not a thing of great geological importance. The location of this "True-mouth" one and its height above sea level give it special interest, however.—New York Evening Post.

Autographs on a Rubbish Heap.

The discovery of some valuable autograph letters is reported from Alghero (Sardinia). A quantity of rubbish had been recently discharged on a heap in a field, when an army lieutenant who chanced to be passing by caught sight of what appeared to be Garibaldi's signature on a letter. He proceeded to examine a number of letters among the rubbish, and found that they were all genuine autograph letters written by Garibaldi, Cavour, Mazzini, King Carlo Alberto, King Victor Emmanuel and others, bearing mainly on the history of the period 1820 to 1860, and subsequent expert examination is reported to have established the fact that the documents are of real historical value apart from their obvious interest as autographs.

It is stated that the letters belonged to the family of Piccinelli, a house quite recently extinct, which played an important part during the wars of Italian independence.

CALLED FATHER OF SCIENCE

Truly Wonderful Thinker and Inventor Was Archimedes, Famous Through the Centuries.

On December 10 of the year 212 B. C. perished the great Archimedes, murdered by a brutal, ignorant Roman soldier, as he sat with bowed head in his house at Syracuse thinking out the mighty problems of science.

Archimedes was born at Syracuse, Sicily, B. C. 287, and was therefore at the time of his death seventy-five years old. He was the greatest man of his day, and will ever rank as one of the profoundest thinkers and reasoners of all time. In mathematics and natural philosophy he had no peer on earth, and it is not too much to say that he is fairly entitled to be called the "father of science." He would have discovered the differential calculus had algebra been known in his day, and he came very near doing so even as it was. He anticipated the astronomical system subsequently worked out by Copernicus. He laid the foundation of hydrostatics. He invented the method for the determination of specific gravity. He formulated the true theory of the lever and uttered the ever famous words, "Give me whereon to stand and I will move the earth." In theoretical mechanics no advance was made upon his ideas during the eighteen centuries between him and Leonardo da Vinci.

It was Archimedes who invented the endless screw, the most important mechanical contrivance known to science. From the rearing brain of the old Syracusan came also the idea of the screw pump, the hydraulic engine and the burning mirror. He was the creator of the catapult, the artillery of the olden time, whose dreadful bolts were the terror of ancient armies. He invented another engine, the ponderous claws of which, reaching over the walls, lifted up ships and their crews and then suddenly dropped them into the sea, while with his great "sun glasses" he was able to set on fire such of the enemies' ships as could not be reached with the grappling machine.

It took the world 2,000 years to produce the equal of the mighty intellect that was brutally snuffed out by the blow from the mace of that brutal Roman soldier.

A Real Drought.

If you don't like it in the United States this summer go to Aden. Ed. Howe has lately been there, and the following are some of the pleasant things he says of the place: "At nine o'clock this evening we came to Aden, in Arabia, said to be the hottest town in the world. Every drop of water used there is condensed from the sea, though there is a white population of 2,000, including English soldiers, and an Arab population of 40,000. There is a tradition that rain fell at Aden three years ago, and that every roof in town leaked; but previous to that time no rain had fallen in the town or its vicinity for many years; many of its elderly citizens had never seen a rainstorm, and looked with wonder upon the one which fell three years ago. A gentleman who lives at Aden says he pays $20 a month for water, which is delivered at his door in tanks drawn by camels. Some of the numerous shops in Aden sell bottled water, and the price in quantity is usually a dollar per hundred gallons. Many years ago great tanks were built at Aden to catch the precious rainfall, but these have not been in use for many years, although tourists usually visit them."—Nebraska State Journal.

Shortening the Law's Delay.

A remarkable change has come over the king's bench courts, remarks the London Globe. Twelve months ago the condition of the courts was so congested that the judges were trying actions which had stood for hearing six months and more. Recently five actions were before the judges which were set down for trial the month before. The ex-lord chancellor once expressed the hope that judges might be in the agreeable position of saying to litigants, "Come into the courts today and we will hear you tomorrow." When litigants have to wait less than three weeks for their cases to be reached the fulfillment of this hope would appear to be not far off. Not in every part of the work of the king's bench division, however, are things so expeditious.

NATURE'S WARNING

Gettysburg People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come mysteriously. But nature generally warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are scumlike and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time to fear serious kidney trouble.

It's time to use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have done great work in Gettysburg.

Charles Wilson, farmer, R. F. D. No. 5, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and have found them fine for kidney complaint. I had sharp twinges across the small of my back and in my sides. By using Doan's Kidney Pills in time I was rid of these troubles. I strongly recommend conviction to the mind of every reader this remedy."

The above statement must carry over. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Wilson had—the remedy backed by home testimony. See all stores. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y. "When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name."

WHAT WE SAY WE DO, WE DO DO. $5 SPRAYERS

LAST FOR 12 YEARS $3. $3. $3.

THREE DOLLARS THEY WILL GO FOR

Full particulars about this CUT PRICE.

We do not want to carry any Sprayers over till next season, so we offer to ship to anybody who wants a good Sprayer for the poultry house or for the garden for $3.00 at this time of year, (the hens will soon pay for the sprayer.)

You do not have to pump air in these sprayers, they work automatically and easily until the very last drop in the tank is consumed. No stopping to pump air or anything else, as you have to with other sprayers.

Send for our large descriptive circular about the Lenox Sprayer and the cut-price of them at this time of year, it will open up your eyes. Write to us to-day, put a string around your finger, then you won't forget it.

After you get one, you may want the agency for your town. If you have a trusty hired man, or a smart ambitious boy and a horse and buggy, one should be sold at every farm-house, and if there is any starch in the seller, he will sell. For any one with an acre and a half now days, must have a sprayer.

THE HARVEST OF DEATH

SEVERAL REACHES AGES FAR
OVER FOUR SCORE YEARS.

Death in the West of Young Woman Born in the County.

Mrs. ANNA ELIZABETH EICHOLTZ, wife of Benjamin Eicholtz, died at her home in New Oxford last Friday, May 15, aged 85 years, 2 months and 20 days. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. Wm. McIlhenny of near Heidelsburg, Mrs. Daniel Raffensperger and Miss Anna Eicholtz at home, Mrs. Louisa Taughinbaugh and Miss Alverta Eicholtz of Gettysburg. Also by one sister, Mrs. Matilda Palmer of near Hunterstown, and the following brothers: Samuel Winters, Columbus, Ohio, Jacob Winters, Bolling Springs, Harry Winters, Harrisburg, and Edward Winters, Good Hope, Pa. Seven grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren also survive. Funeral was Tuesday, May 19, by Rev. Dr. W. A. Korn, interment in the New Oxford Cemetery.

Mrs. ELIZABETH ZINN, wife of John E. Zinn, died at her home in McSherrytown, Sunday, May 17, after an illness of four weeks, aged 75 years, 4 months and 17 days. She was a daughter of the late Nicholas Sientz of McSherrytown, was born and spent her entire life in that place. She was a life-long Lutheran and during the last ten years was affiliated with St. Paul's Church, McSherrytown. She leaves her husband to whom she was married 54 years ago and four children. Mrs. Frank J. Rider of Hanover, Mrs. James E. Lawrence, and William Zinn of McSherrytown, and Mrs. John Weaver of Conowingo township. She was the last surviving member of a family of nine children. Funeral took place Thursday, May 21, services by Rev. C. W. Baker, interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Hanover.

Mrs. CAROLINE WOLF, widow of the late Adam Wolf, an aged resident of the county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Kinneman, near Abbottstown, Friday, May 15, having reached her 86th year. Her husband died 34 years ago and she leaves two sons, George E. Wolf of near New Oxford, and Alexander Wolf of New Chester; also an only daughter, Mrs. Kinneman, with whom she resided. Funeral was on Monday, May 18, services in the Reform Church, Abbottstown, Rev. Dr. W. Korn officiating. Interment in the Reform Cemetery, that place.

EPHRAIM H. CASHMAN of Pines Church near New Chester, died on Sunday from tuberculosis, aged 75 years, 7 months and 24 days. He had been ill for several years. He leaves his wife and three children. Mrs. Oscar Ziesler of Gettysburg, Harry Cashman of near Pines Church, and Earl Cashman at home. He also leaves three brothers, John Cashman of Five Points, near Cashman of New Windsor, Md., and Abel Cashman of Taneytown. Funeral on Wednesday, services and interment at Pines Church.

Mrs. LEAH CHRONISTER was born in Adams County, Pa., May 5, 1819, and died at the home of her daughter in Chicago, Ill., April 24, 1914, aged 94 years, 11 months and 19 days. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Sarah Binder of Chicago, and Mrs. Elizabeth Conrad, of Atlantic, Iowa, her children having passed away before her demise. Mrs. Chronister enjoyed good health until six months previous to her death.

SAMUEL J. NUNEMAKER of Bakersville, Washington county, Md., died at his home on Sunday, May 10, aged 75 years. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Nettie Nunemaker at home and Mrs. H. Hoofnagle of near Greenmount, Pa. Mr. Nunemaker was a nephew of David, Frederick and John Rhodes and Mrs. S. S. Moritz of Freedom township.

MARY ELIZABETH SMITH, daughter of the late Felix A. Smith, died at the home of Mrs. Smith in Irishtown, on Wednesday of last week from tuberculosis and whooping cough, aged 2 years, 9 months and 7 days. Survivors are the mother and six brothers and sisters. Interment was made in Conowingo Cemetery at Conowingo chapel at 2 o'clock last Friday. This is the third death in the family within two months, as it will be remembered the father died suddenly on March 16th when about to leave his home to attend his mother's funeral.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rice of Arendtsville, died Monday at their home aged one week. The funeral was held on Wednesday with interment in Fairview Cemetery, at Arendtsville, services by Rev. D. T. Koser.

Mrs. MARY BRAXTON died on Monday, Brooklyn, N. Y., as a result of a fall down a flight of steps at her home during the day. She was the mother of Christian C. Benson, an employee of the local furniture factory, who is called home.

SAMUEL J. ALTHOFF died on Tuesday at his home on Breckenridge street, this place, aged 56 years, 2 months and 27 days. The funeral was held Friday morning in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, with requiem high mass by Rev. Fr. Boyle, interment in Catholic Cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Althoff, three brothers and four sisters, Frank Althoff and Wm. Althoff of Gettysburg, Joseph Althoff of Taneytown, Miss Mary Althoff and Mrs. Nelson Flaherty of Gettysburg, Mrs. James Clark of York, and Mrs. Nettie Hemler of South Dakota.

Mrs. ANNIE E. YATTS, wife of J. F. Yatts, died in York on May 19 in her 74th year. She was Miss Annie E. Yatts of Five Points before marriage. Her husband is the son of Howard Yatts of York Springs. They moved to York about six years ago. She leaves besides her husband one son.

HENRY M. BLACK died at Manchester on May 18 in his 70th year. He was a native of Carroll county. He was twice married and leaves four sons and a daughter. Two brothers and a sister survive, the latter being Mrs. Fatima Black Myers of this place.

JONATHAN WISLER, a highly esteemed citizen of Franklin township, died on Wednesday evening at the advanced age of 85 years and 6 months. Born in Butler township he lived on the farm where he died for over 50 years. He was a prosperous farmer, an ardent Democrat and respected by all who knew him. His wife died 18 years ago. He leaves two sons and a daughter, George Wisler at home, Samuel M. Wisler and Mrs. Mervin VanDyke of Gettysburg. The funeral will be held this Saturday morning at 9:30, services by Rev. D. T. Koser, interment at Florh's Church.

MRS. SARAH A. KINSEY, widow of Henry Kinsey of E. Berlin died Thursday about 7 o'clock a. m. She had been an invalid for years. She was aged 68 years. She is survived by two brothers, Nathaniel Nickey of Bigmont, York county, and one sister.

From the Clayton, Murray County "Herald," the following notice is taken of the death of MARY SLAYBAUGH, daughter of H. C. Slaybaugh, who formerly resided near this town:

Mary Slaybaugh is dead. That sounds very strange to us as we repeat it over and over and think. But a short time ago she was young, fresh and full of life, but now she is dead. Is it true? Hundreds have asked themselves that question since the sad news came like a cloud over that perfect spring afternoon. Yes, she is at rest. But the mystery of it all. It seems as if it must be a dream that will vanish with the coming of a new day, but no, it cannot. Will any of us ever forget her, did you ask. Does the sun forget to keep its appointed time or the stars fail to brighten the night. No, we shall not forget her. She was a noble, true hearted girl and we delight to pay tribute to her memory.

She was in her happy teens, the time when the bud of life was just opening into the blossom of larger and better things. But it was not to be. Just as the first petals were opening and revealing to us the tender flower in all its beauty, he, who in his wisdom knows best, reached down and plucked the blossom from our very midst.

A chair at the table is vacant, a bright face gone from the home and a place in the Sunday School is left to be filled, but the work of the world will go on.

Mary Elizabeth Slaybaugh was 17 years, 1 month and 19 days old. She was born March 28th 1897, at Gettysburg, Adams county, Pa. On May 8, 1914, she fell asleep, just as the perfect spring day was drawing to a close and on Sunday, May 10th she was laid to rest in our Silent City. The funeral services were held from the Norwegian Lutheran Church, at 2:30 the Rev. C. N. Hamrin of the M. E. Church officiating, and paying a fitting tribute to her memory.

Life will never again be quite the same to those who knew her, while those who were nearest to her will cherish her memory as they would a gem of rare beauty. We know that words cannot make the pain less sharp to the sorrowing family, but the sincerest sympathy of the entire community goes out to them in their sad bereavement.

Might we not draw a lesson from the following verse from the pen of one of our foremost American poets: A precious one from us has gone.

A voice we love is stilled. A place is vacant in our home. Which never can be filled. A: morn and noon and eve There is a vacant chair: An aching void in all our hearts In whom she was so dear. Farewell, dear daughter, a sad farewell.

To us no more your face we see But hope in Heaven e'er to be.

More Pa. Bronze Statues.

General John P. Geary, General Alexander Hays and General A. A. Humphreys, Pennsylvanians, will be memorialized on the battlefield of Gettysburg with statues mounted on stone pedestals of a style similar to the statue of General Reynolds in the National Cemetery.

The erection of these statues is in the hands of the Pennsylvania Monument Commission, of which General Huidekoper is chairman and the Commission expects to receive bids at an early date for the erection of these memorials.

The statue of General Geary will be erected in the vicinity of Geary Avenue, Culp's Hill. Of General Alex. Hays in the vicinity of the Bryan House, and of General Humphreys in the vicinity of the Peach Orchard.

It is hoped that the Commission will be successful in securing sculptors of world recognized ability to create these statues. Work of this kind that is worth while should not be expected from stone contractors. When Pennsylvania has a Barnard State genius should be given the creation of such memorials. May Heaven save the battlefield from three pairs of legs on the new statues as made ridiculous several of the bronze figures on the Pennsylvania State Monument.

Keep the Balance Up.

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness, or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distribution as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength, and endurance. Advertisement.

OVERLAND produces 50,000 cars a year

Overland Model 79

50,000 a Year vs. 1500 a Year

ANY foreign producer who gets his annual automobile production up to 1500 cars a year thinks he has manufacturing economy down to a fine science.

We can turn out that many cars in a week!

For 1914 we will build 50,000 Overlands—the world's largest production on this type of car.

Our manufacturing cost must decrease as our production increases.

How can those manufacturers who make but 1500 cars a year, meet our prices?

They cannot.

Yet there are scores of American manufacturers whose annual output does not exceed 1500 cars a year.

Keep these cold facts in mind when buying and you can save yourself considerable money.

Send for our catalogues. Please address Dept. 28.

STORY OF THE PRIMARY.

The primary on Tuesday was attended by less than fifty per cent. of the declared Democratic voters of the county and by less than 40 per cent. of the total Democratic voters in the county. The vote was light both in the towns and country districts. The farmers were busy in the fields and with primaries closing at 7 o'clock only a few got to the polls, yet this condition does not explain the lightness of the vote in the town in this most important primary.

We have been unable to complete a table of the vote throughout the county because in five of the districts the election officials sealed up all the return sheets, not returning one set in an unsealed envelope. So in the figures given elsewhere by districts, no returns from these districts have been included. They are: Arendtsville, East Franklin, Franklin, Hamilton, and Union. The total vote without these districts are as follows:

U. S. SENATOR.
Ed. A. Mitchell Palmer ..... 958
Henry Budd ..... 516
The complete returns will give Palmer a majority of over 700.

GOVERNOR.
Wm. Vance C. McCormick ..... 975
Michael J. Ryan ..... 448
Mr. McCormick will have a majority in excess of 600.
Former Creasy will have a majority of Lieut. Governor less than the two to head of ticket.

FOR CONGRESS.
Ed. A. R. Brodbeck ..... 938
N. Gitt ..... 225
Chas. A. Hawkins ..... 215
H. Myers ..... 13
The plurality of Mr. Brodbeck over second high man will likely be about 500.

FOR LEGISLATURE.
Ed. A. Holtzworth ..... 618
C. Rudisill ..... 732
The returns from five districts not included are likely to make Mr. Rudisill's majority from 150 to 175.

The contest for State Committee was a three-cornered one and is very close. Adding the reported figures sent by phone from the five districts to the figures from the official returns the following are the complete returns:
George A. Bream ..... 620
George L. Rice ..... 391
Joseph I. Weaver ..... 477
Plurality of Mr. Bream ..... 43
The County Commissioners at noon Friday began work of opening the sealed packages and counting the returns.

REPUBLICAN.
Boies Penrose has been nominated for the U. S. Senate.
Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh has been nominated for Governor.
C. Wm. Beales just smiles when it is mentioned that the nomination for Congress was his without an effort.
According to the city papers Hon. W. F. Lafean is said to have received nomination for one of the four Congressmen at Large. In that event C. Wm. Beales will go vote hunting for himself.

WASHINGTON.
There will be a full Washington ticket in the field. Teddy is expected to make this campaign a battle ground to land himself inside the Republican party. This ticket will be as follows:

FOR U. S. SENATE.
Gifford Pinchot.
FOR GOVERNOR.
Wm. Draper Lewis.
FOR CONGRESS.
Robert J. Lewis.
FOR LEGISLATURE.
S. Gray Bigham.

Official Vote.

Abbotstown—For U. S. Senator.

CARLYLE A TRUE PESSIMIST.

Any Movement of the World Toward Better Things Was to Him a Step Backward.

Thomas Carlyle's friendship with Ralph Waldo Emerson is a matter of history, but Charles Elliot Norton tells in his newly published letters that Carlyle marveled at the optimism of the American philosopher. Writing in 1873, Norton says: "As we were sitting together just after my coming in this afternoon, Carlyle spoke of Emerson. 'There's a great contrast between Emerson and myself. He seems verra content with life, and takes much satisfaction in the world, especially in your country. One would suppose to hear him that ye had no troubles there, and no share in the darkness that hangs over these old lands. It's a verra strikin' and curious spectacle to behold a man so confidently cheerful as Emerson in these days.

"Well, it may be as you say. I'm not such a verra bloody-minded old villain after all (here a cordial laugh), not quite so horrid an ogre as some good people imagine. But the world is verra black to me; and I see nothin' to be content with in this brand new, patent society of ours. There's nothin' to hope for from it but confusion."

"I agree with ye in thinkin' that the times that are comin' will be worse than ours, and that by and by men may, through long pain and distress, learn to obey the law eternal of order, without which there can be neither justice nor real happiness in this world or in any other. The last man in England who had real faith in it was Oliver Cromwell."

SUFFERED FOR HIS COUNTRY

First American Diplomat Illy Rewarded, and His Services Long Went Unrecognized.

The first diplomatic agent of the United States was Silas Deane, who was born at Groton, Conn. He became a merchant and was a delegate to the first continental congress. In the spring of 1776 he was sent to France as a secret diplomatic agent. He posed as a merchant from Bermuda and upon his arrival in Paris sought an interview with Count de Vergennes, the minister for foreign affairs, who refused to receive him. Deane was reduced to the direst poverty and was ejected by his landlady. Subsequent American ambassadors have complained of the lack of suitable embassies, but Deane was reduced to a point where he had to accept poor lodgings from a sympathetic Frenchman. Eventually he was given an audience with Vergennes and began the diplomatic relations which eventually resulted in the French alliance. In 1777 Deane was recalled. In the bitter controversy which followed his recall Thomas Paine revealed the fact that supplies furnished the colonies had been furnished by the French government—a diplomatic indiscretion which cost Paine his place as secretary of the committee on foreign affairs. Deane, driven into poverty and exile, died in England in 1789. Half a century later his claim for his services abroad was adjusted by congress and a large sum was paid to his heirs.

Napoleon as Pathfinder.

That Napoleon was as quick witted as any of those he commanded is evident from the well-known story of his cleverness in escaping from the Red Sea when crossing with his staff. The ford was lost, and, as it was dusk, there was no landmark to guide the party.

Gathering his officers in a circle, Napoleon made them all ride outward from himself as a center, as if they were following the spokes of a great wheel. So all the paths were tried and the right one was found.

In reading such stories as this is most important to see the idea in them, as the mere way of telling them differs with every author. In fact, the same stories are often told of different men. But whoever was clever enough to think of these things, it is well for us to remember the facts themselves.

The moral is: "Use your brains!"—From "The Men with Brains." By Tudor Jenks in St. Nicholas.

Leg-Generated Light.

A French inventor has devised a mechanism which, if he is to be believed, will conserve the health and pocketbook while adding appreciably to the joy of living. It is an exerciser made after the fashion of the bicycle, but connected with a dynamo of moderate power and a storage battery. One mounts the machine and by pedaling for an hour or so has sufficient exercise to develop his muscles properly, not to mention the pleasure of wheeling. He has also generated enough electricity to keep several lights burning for an entire evening.

The inventor estimates that a family of ordinary size may keep health at high tide and live in a splendidly illuminated house at small cost.

Points on Chopping.

Beginners invariably over-exert themselves in chopping, and are soon "winded." An accurate stroke counts for much more than a heavy, but blundering one. A good chopper lands one blow exactly on top of the other with the precision and regularity of a machine; he chops slowly, but rhythmically, and puts little more effort into striking than he does into lifting his ax for the blow. Trying to sink the ax deeply at every stroke is about the hardest work that a scout can do, and it spoils accuracy.

TRUE-HEARTED GIRL

By MILDRED CAROLINE GOODRIDGE.

"The artful minx!"
"Yes, it's simply disgraceful!"
Thus Miss Blanche Ransom, thus in indignant echo Miss Eunice Bradner.

They were seated on the veranda of the summer hotel at Silver Lake and their mutual interest was centered on a couple passing down the beach, smiling, attractive and happy—a man and a girl, the latter Lois Tyrell, school mistress, the gentleman Vane Walton, grandson and heir of John Walton, the city millionaire.

He had joined the gay aristocratic group at the hotel two weeks previously. Mr. Paul Durand, fop and trailer of the fashionable set, had cultivated him and incidentally made him his occasional banker. Between Miss Ransom and Miss Bradner there had been a positive race for the attention of the promising young man.

Quite accidentally one afternoon Vane had rescued Lois Tyrell from the grasp of a thieving tramp, bent on robbing her as she was gathering wild flowers in the wood.

The rare beauty and modesty of the young girl had held Vane spellbound ever since. For the first time in his life he knew what real love was. In a week he had confessed the fact to the object of his adoration, at the end of two they were engaged.

"After his money, of course!" remarked Miss Ransom sourly.
"Oh, everybody knows that!" chimed in Miss Bradner with like acrimony.

Meantime the happy lovers continued their stroll. It led to the humble little schoolhouse where Lois presided. Then Vane came back to the hotel. It was to face a vast surprise.

A letter awaited him and by its superscription he recognized the handwriting of his grandfather. He had written his eccentric relative frankly informing him that he had met his heart's choice. With some anxiety he had awaited the reply. Here it was.

Saw the Letter on the Bureau in Vane's Room.

The missive was a brief one. "The timber investment has gone beyond my control," it ran. "You had better think of something besides getting married. I am going away to find out if anything can be saved from the wreck. In the meantime you had better try and start in earning a living."

The timber investment!—that involved the entire fortune of Vane's grandfather. To say that Vane was not seriously impressed and disappointed would be to stray from the facts. It was a positive blow, a rude shock.

Paul Durand, always meanly poking into the business of others, saw the letter on the bureau in Vane's room later. The news soon spread. Before nightfall the fashionable coterie at the hotel knew of the failure of the old millionaire. Before nightfall Vane had set the stamp of truth upon the rumor by retreating to the cheap little hotel in the village.

"What a narrow escape!" shuddered Miss Ransom, recalling her efforts to capture the young man.

"There will probably be a change in the sentiments of that scheming school mistress now!" sneered Miss Bradner.

There was certainly a change in the shallow natures of the tuft hunters who had praised and petted and sponged upon the generous young Walton.

Cold shoulders were turned to him, distant glances and supercilious nods awarded him. Mr. Paul Durand made a point to evade his former friend, and forgetting to repay his borrowings.

There came one bright spot in Vane's experience. The young clergyman who had charge of the struggling church on "The Flats," where a poor working community predominated, came to Vane in his new quarters.

"I hear you have met with some distress in your expectations, Mr. Walton," he remarked.

"I fear it is true," replied Vane gravely.

"I wish to offer my personal as-istance, then. You were more than liberal in donating to my life work. I have some small cash I can spare for a time. If you are temporarily embarrassed—"

"You are a good man—as I always thought you to be," interrupted Vane hastily and in a choking tone. "Your sympathy is a rare boon just at this time. I can pull through, thank you. I can suggest one way you can help me, though."

"I am certainly at your service," declared the good-hearted young minister earnestly.

"Then find me some work to do."

"You mean here, in the village?"

"Just that, I am going to stay. My grandfather will probably have to throw me on my own resources. A certain pride influences me to remain away from my former circle of business acquaintances."

"And Miss Tyrell?"
"She has consented to become my wife."

"A true, noble young lady," commented the clergyman warmly.

So Miss Ransom and Miss Bradner found themselves in error as to the motives and fealty of the loyal little schoolmistress. It really seemed as though Lois was not sorry that wealth had dropped away from the man she loved—it placed them more on an equality of social position, it put to rout the ill natured implication that her motives were sordid.

The kind hearted clergyman found a really good position for Vane with a firm in the town controlling several grain elevators in the district. Lois who was alone in the world, was about to be transferred to a new school district. The problem of a separation was solved by Vane insisting that they be married at once.

To Lois the little cottage that they called home was a palace of comfort and delight. Often, however, she would wonder if Vane missed the old time luxury, often she reproached herself for becoming a burden to a man just learning to make his own business way in the world.

Then Vane would divine her thoughts. There was no false note to the steadfast joy and supreme contentment the new life had brought to his loyal soul!

Lois was alone one day in the house when the whir of a halting automobile outside called her to the porch. The chauffeur of the machine helped a dignified old gentleman, alight. He came directly up the gravel path to Lois.

"Mrs. Walton?" he inquired.
Nellie bowed assentingly.
"Then my granddaughter," went on her visitor.

"Oh, you are Mr. John Walton? Vane will be so delighted!"
The old gentleman looked about the neat parlor into which he was shown in an approving way.

"Sorry I am going to disturb you here," he remarked, "for you are certainly to be envied in this home-like nest."

"But you are not going to disturb us!" exclaimed Lois heartily. "It will give us the most wonderful pleasure to welcome you to our home."

"Thank you, dear, but I have come to take you back to the city. So you are the true hearted girl, unlike a good many of the others, who really loved my grandson for himself and not for his money?" propounded the old man, his eyes fixed commendingly upon the neat little housewife.

Lois blushed and looked embarrassed.

"Well, it was all a test," continued Mr. John Walton. "I wanted to be sure that Vane was not being caught by a fortune hunter. When I wrote Vane that my timber investment had gone beyond my control, it was true—but I had sold out at a princely profit. When I spoke of 'the wreck'—well, there was a wreck at one of the logging camps when a small engine blew up."

A few months later at a fashionable function in the city, Miss Ransom and Miss Bradner sat spellbound as Vane Walton and his beautiful wife came into evidence.

"What a beautiful costume!" commented Miss Ransom.

"Yes, indeed, we must cultivate the dear girl," added Miss Bradner.

So runs the world.

Wanted a Certain Shade of Blue.

As proof that the clerk's lot "is not an appy one," the Manhattan Nationalist quotes a shopper as saying: "Something in plain taffeta, please. I don't want anything as dark as navy blue, nor anything as light as Cambridge blue, but something darker than Eton blue, and a little off from electric blue, and not a sky blue or laboratory blue; more like a robin's egg blue, and yet not so light, but not an India or Wilson blue, but something like this new tint peary blue. I think they call it morning glory blue, which is something like a turquoise blue, or Copenhagen blue, but not quite so light as that; not quite so dark as this new ultramarine blue or Ricketts blue, or so light as baby blue. Now, if you have anything in the shade of blue I have described, show it to me." The intelligent salesman, after consulting with Charlie, unrolled a length of silk which was a cross between the blue devil and the deep blue sea, with the remark: "This is the shade of blue you require, madam. It is called London milk." After giving her the blue desired and bidding her a royal blue farewell, the storm blew over.—Kansas City Star.

Tame Reading.

"Football may be a great game, but I don't enjoy reading about it."

"Why not?"

"The writers describe it with such a dearth of slang."

Big Agricultural Land Opening

TWELVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY TRACTS of five and ten acres each to be granted to prospective settlers in throwing open Twenty Thousand Acres of Rich, Southern Georgia Land, which is admirably adapted to the growing of celery, sweet and Irish potatoes, canteloupes, water melons, corn, oats, cotton, bay—in fact, all staple crops grown in this fertile section, as well as a large variety of semi-tropical fruits, and the famous immensely profitable paper-shell pecans.

Providing you are eligible under the classifications prescribed by us, you are now offered an excellent opportunity to break away from the drudgery and toil of a small wage, or working for the benefit of landlords, and go back to a land of plenty, to which, if granted, you will hold a warranty deed and abstract.

The best security on earth is the earth itself, and land is the basis of all wealth. Owners of productive lands are benefitting by the increasing high cost of living, while others are suffering from it.

An Opportunity to Secure Rich Productive Land Without Capital

You will not be required to leave your present surroundings now. All we ask of those to whom we grant tracts is that they plant, or arrange to have planted, a crop of one of the above-mentioned products within three years, after which we will have it graded (harvested and replanted) for grantees, in consideration of 25 per cent. of the net profits derived from the sale of the crops, thereby allowing the grantee to pursue his or her present occupation until such time as they determine just what the yield of their acres amounts to. Consider what this may mean as a source of income. The land statistics show that the yield of one acre of celery amounted to $1,250.00, and that one acre of well-cared-for paper-shell pecans, in full bearing, should net its owner as high as $500.00 per year. We are of the opinion that after it is proven by actual results obtained in operating the land that they will need no further urging, and waste no time in locating in this land of plenty. We also require grantees to occupy the land within ten years, or sell it to some one who will occupy it; otherwise it reverts back to the grantor.

The land included in this opening is located directly on, and adjoining the Atlantic, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, about twenty-five miles west of Brunswick, a thriving city of fifteen thousand, having direct steamship service to New York and Boston, and excellent railroad transportation facilities to all ports. The average temperature for six months of the year, from April to October, is 77 degrees; the climate is most beautiful, delightful, and invigorating, and there is an ample rainfall of 51 inches per year.

OUR AIM IS FOR MUTUALLY BENEFICIAL RESULTS
As we are anxious to attract settlers to this property, and assist in its development, and thereby greatly increase the value of surrounding and interesting property, which we will hold, and to increase the traffic there to the Atlantic, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, and thus facilitate the commerce and travel warranted in these tracts to those who register with us. We also have in mind business and pleasure trips which we will offer for sale after the expiration of the year, and will be included in it. We have many other considerations in this limited opening, and will be glad to hear of those of the Northern Pacific and

FEARFUL FOR HIS HEALTH

Friends of Reformed Man Remarkably Solicitous as to Amount of Beverage He Takes.

"Did you ever notice," asked the ex-bank, making rings on the bar with his glass of milk and vichy, "how solicitous his friends always are for the health of the man on the water wagon? Now, I like to drop in with the bunch and surround a seltzer lemonade or so while they are imbibing highballs, for the sake of sociability, but it is really spoiled for me by the way they worry."

"In the old days nobody ever troubled himself about my constitution. None of the gang ever stopped me as I was about to take my sixth highball and said, 'Don't, old man; that will enlarge your spleen, and put hobnails on your liver, and give you Bright's disease.' Not at all. You could go on drinking highballs all night, with never a warning word."

"But now, after I have taken my third seltzer and aromatic spirits, the boys begin to look thoroughly disquieted. 'Don't take any more of that stuff,' they urge; 'it stimulates the heart action, and if you take half a dozen of them you are likely to drop dead right here in the bar. Just stand out on those two you've had or take a cigar.'"

"Or if I'm drinking some of these fermented milk drinks, I can't get past the third or fourth glass without the conversation halting and a look of real anxiety overspreading every face. 'Stop it, old man,' they say, and they're not joking; they're really worried. 'You've had three of those already, and all that acid stuff in your stomach is sure to give you indigestion. If you keep it up, your indigestion will be chronic.'"

"As for the warnings I've had about ginger ale, I've laughed at 'em so often that the boys now have got a little skittish and don't talk so much about it. What I'm driving at is that all this isn't put on; they really do feel troubled on my account and display a fatherly solicitude that is actually touching. I'm almost tempted to fall off the water wagon long enough to see if any of them will warn me that whisky stimulates the heart and that beer is bad for the kidneys. Will they? You have one guess."

CANNOT FIGHT THE MEMORY

Real Reason Why Contributions to "Conscience Funds" Come in More or Less Regular.

Practically every government in this country, local, state or national, has what is known as a conscience fund. Contributions are continually being received for this fund from unknown sources. They dribble in day after day, sometimes in amounts of a few cents and sometimes in sums of substantial proportions.

Each contribution means that some person has found the memory of dishonesty so troublesome that he goes to considerable trouble to get rid of it. Of course, those who make restitution are probably far fewer than those who have taken what does not belong to them and escaped detection. The conscience fund is an illustration of the way in which a guilty memory must interfere with efficiency.

A memory which is what a distinguished psychologist has called "ingrowing" takes the mind off other subjects at great expense to the life. The ingrowing memory gradually becomes the central thought of the mind, and the mental power is paralyzed. A bad conscience has often cost men their positions, simply because it diverts them from the duties assigned to them. It is usually far less expensive to get rid of a bad conscience than to keep it.

Breeding Tailless Dogs.

Philippe de Vilvorin has just completed some odd experiments to ascertain the influence of heredity on tailless dogs. There are several different breeds that have no tails, and these are fairly common in some parts of France and Germany.

In an effort to ascertain if absence of tail is hereditary in dogs, he brought about twenty-seven crosses between dog breeds of different breeds. He reports that the Academie des Sciences that when tailless is bred with tailless, the result is 75 tailless and 25 with tails. This is exactly in accord with the formula of Mendel, absence of tail being in such dogs dominant to possession of tail. Of the 75 tailless dogs 25 are pure bred, and the other 50 unite the two characters. The 25 pure will bear pure tailless progeny; the 50 mixed will bear in the same proportion, 25 pure tailless, 50 mixed, 25 with tails.

Breeds that normally possess tails are pure and will always have puppies with tails.

He makes no report on the effect of breeding tailed with tailless.

Hard Luck Experiences.

Two New Yorkers of some experience in travel other than by the rapid transit lines of the metropolis were telling hard luck stories.

"About the worst I ever got up against," said one, "was buying from a Connecticut Yankee what was represented to be a pullet, and, by gosh, it turned out to be a hen so old she couldn't lay fresh eggs."

"Hard lines, hard lines," sighed the other, who had a red nose, "but think of me being marooned for a whole month in a Kansas town which was so teetotally temperate that the even cows had gone dry at the last election."

DIDN'T FIND IT INTERESTING

Settler Had No Hesitation in Declaring Encyclopedia Had Its Dry Spots.

Dudley Field Malone, the new collector of the port of New York, said to a reporter:

"I'm too new to my job to talk about it yet. If I talked about it I might, like the mountaineer, give away my ignorance."

"A man was hunting in Pike county, and up around Porters lake he visited a settler's house."

"He noticed a volume of a good encyclopedia on a shelf above the gun, and said:

"It must be a handy thing away off here to have an encyclopedia."

"'Yep,' said the mountaineer. 'Yep, she's handy. I only got the first book.'"

"'Why haven't you got the others?'"

"'I ain't finished this one yet, so I ain't ready for another. I bought this one off'n an agent about eight years ago. He come round six months afterwards and says, says he: 'Here's yer second volume, mister.'"

"'What?' says I. 'Why, I ain't finished the first volume yet. You jest dig out!'"

"'He dug, too. Nine year ago it was. I ain't more'n half through her yet. The wife, she's about quarter through. It took a lot o' brains to write this book, but it's my opinion, all the same, and I don't mind tellin' ye, that I think she's got her dry streaks, like most everything else.'"

When the real estate man came into the Curststone club headquarters he proudly displayed a tooth which he said had just been extracted by a dentist.

"Doc said it's one of the biggest he ever saw," he exclaimed.

The ancient carpenter, who is known as the club Ananias, inspected the molar with an apparent lack of real interest.

"It's nothing compared with one I had pulled once," he finally observed.

"Gee out," ejaculated the real estate man, "you don't mean to tell me you had a bigger tooth than that."

"Sure I did," the carpenter declared.

No Promotion for Drinkers.

New orders have been issued from the Lukens Iron and Steel Company's office at Coatsville, Pennsylvania, by the Superintendent, W. H. Hamilton, that no employees who drink intoxicating beverages need expect promotion. Every effort is being made to keep the men from drinking at all.

Not long ago the Reading Railroad passed a rule which read thus: "No employee of this railroad whether on duty or off duty is permitted to enter a bar of any sort. Any employee seen in any such place shall be dismissed without explanation."

There is no doubt that the employees must be efficient, and the railroad has realized that intemperance destroys efficiency. That the engineer whose brain is dulled by intoxicating drinks; whose nerves are put to sleep by alcoholic poisons; whose heart is weakened by intemperate beverages is not the person to whom can safely be entrusted a single life because the slightest hesitation or mistake may cause one of the awful wrecks which are too frequent.

For the same reason, sailors are not permitted to drink. Only recently Secretary Daniels has ruled away the "Officers' Mess" believing that drunkenness causes inefficiency and inefficiency, Titanic disasters.

In a majority of the large business establishments men and boys who use alcoholic liquors in any form are debarred either entirely or as in the foregoing article from promotion.

Any profession such as medicine, law, teaching, engineering of course places a man in a slightly more independent position, but in the end it is the abstainer who succeeds; the abstainer who becomes the honorable and honored citizen.

We read not long ago of the four baseball professionals who won fame for themselves. Two of them were intemperate men and died in the midst of their fame. The other two, both men who do not use alcoholic liquors are yearly winning fresh laurels.

Therefore it seems almost axiomatic to the writer that in these progressive days the successful man must be temperate. And it also seems that any young man who knowing these things indulges in the use of intoxicating liquors has opened-eyed thrown away his birth right.
